

A LOCAL NOTE FOR YOUR STAY

Brockville, Gently Recommended

A few personal suggestions for guests with time before or after their A 1000 Ways experience. Coffee, river air, heritage, local food and a good evening out.

Start the day well

Sweet Ofelia Cafe for a polished cafe stop, Cosies for a traditional British tea room, and Pau Hana Coffee for a good coffee. On Saturday mornings from May through November, visit the Brockville Farmers' Market.

Heritage, arts and context

Visit the Brockville Railway Tunnel (open seasonally, spring through fall; check current opening dates), then add Courthouse Avenue, Fulford Place or the Brockville Museum. For an evening out, check the Brockville Arts Centre calendar.

Local food stops

Visit Hall's Apple Market for apples, cider and baked goods, and Tincap Berry Farm for berries, vegetables and farm-market finds. Check seasonal hours. The Butcher Shop offers fresh meats, deli meats and cheeses.

The river and a local walk

Start at Blockhouse Island for river views close to downtown. For a longer walk, follow the Brock Trail through the city at an easier pace.

Lunch & Dinner

Don's Fish & Chips is a relaxed waterfront institution. The Noshery specializes in steak and classic steakhouse fare, while 1000 Islands Restaurant & Pizzeria is a longstanding local favourite.

See Brockville from the water

1000 Islands & Seaway Cruises offers scenic cruises showcasing Brockville's waterfront and grand riverside homes.

Dive Brockville Adventure Centre offers dive charters and activities for non-divers, including boat rides and island water taxis.

Brockville Tourism offers seasonal kayak and paddleboard rentals at St. Lawrence Park.
